

A CHARACTERISTIC STAY

Normally, we remember people for their uniqueness, either in their character or their looks. If we were to compare Shasa Hotel, Casavela Koh Samui to a person, we could say it would be remembered as someone tasteful, considering everything from their stylish looks to their remarkable character.

Speaking of looks, the hotel is grounded on a slope of Laem Set Beach that is both private and peaceful. The hotel is ultra chic and stylish with a lot of design objects to feast your eyes on, and has an interesting entrance that features an art image pool. The overall design is quite exceptional: the lobby overlooks the sea, and the clever use of space provides ventilation throughout the whole lobby area meaning that air-conditioning isn't really needed. The objects in the lobby not only look good but are also practical; the line of Apple computers are not there just for their good looks, but can be used. Sofas are modern yet comfortable enough so you can just sit and watch the sea. There are also three swimming pools: a romantic hillside pool, seaside pool and hydrotherapy spa pool.

Every room here comes with a seaview; the Seaview Suite (one bedroom to three bedrooms) and the Beach Front Pool Villa, which whether you are coming with lover, friend or family are rooms that suit every need. The hotel is equipped with all kinds of facilities including complimentary Internet access across the hotel, beds with Egyptian cotton sheets to guarantee a nice sleep, and quality kitchenware which really tempts one to buy some fresh seafood from the fishermen's village and self cater. Or make it simple by going to The Z Restaurant, the uber stylish restaurant, which offers Italian cuisine and plays on mystery through the use of black and pink in the interior design. Some may want to have a warm up drink before dinner at the Poolside Bar.

And the cherry on top of the lovely experience that is Shasa Hotel is the friendly and attentive staff who make guests feel so comfortable that it's as if you are staying at a friend's place.
